Proposal Would Drastically Limit Net Earning During War Effort

WASHINGTON, June 16—The House ways and means committee today studied the treasury's proposal for a super tax on personal income which would accomplish President Roosevelt's objective of drastically limiting net earnings during the war.

Under the recommendation single persons would not be allowed more than $25,000 a year after payment of other federal taxes while married couples would be allowed a maximum of $50,000. A tax of 100 percent would be imposed on incomes above these amounts.

EVEN THIEF HAS ROLE IN SCRAP RUBBER SALVAGE

BELLEVILLE, June 16—A Belleville thief has a clear conscience today.

Last week, a local resident placed a rowing machine and a pair of hip boots, among other things, along the curb for scrap collectors, but before the articles could be gathered up by a Junior Chamber of Commerce truck, the boots and machine disappeared.

A notice published in the Belleville newspaper "shamed" the thief and a day later the stolen articles were found along the curb near where they were stolen.

FIRE HITS TROY CLUB

TROY, June 16—Loss to the Troy Country club which was destroyed by fire yesterday, was estimated today at between $10,000 and $15,000, all of which is covered by insurance. The blaze resulted from the explosion of a boiler in the club's kitchen, firemen said.

Nazis Unable To Capture Areas Lost To Soviet In Last Month

By JAMES E. BROWN
MOSCOW, June 16—While heavy shells from guns of the Russian Black Sea fleet screamed overhead, the Soviet defenders of Sevastopol met German attackers in hand-to-hand combat today, hurling back the enemy in a series of bloody bayonet charges on the historic Crimean battlefield.

Naval planes from the Soviet aircraft carrier Stalin participated in the fighting, bombing and machine-gunning German positions landed by the Black Sea fleet played a part in disrupting the Nazi offensive plan.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The Vichy radio reported bloody encounters north of the Sevastopol front, where the Germans have massed seven divisions of infantry and at least 150 tanks. The defenders' situation was described as "serious.")

On the Kharkov front, the Germans threw in large reserves but failed to regain positions lost last month. They also failed in a fierce four-day battle to seize hills covering the approaches to the Donetz river crossing and have now taken up the defensive in this area.

Hitting On Two Fronts

German infantry troops, supported by tanks, are attacking repeatedly on two fronts, the Communist party newspaper Pravda reported. Each thrust is preceded by aerial bombardment.

Latest front-line dispatches said the Soviets were maintaining all positions intact. While individual German sorties are being met at bayonet point, Russian artillery is dealing heavy blows to the rear. Hundreds of dead and wounded Germans have been left on the field of battle, Pravda said.

AILING SLACKER GOES TO PRISON DESPITE PAINS

CLEVELAND, June 16—Although he claimed he was suffering from a swollen face, flat feet, bad stomach, pains in the side and bronchitis, Edward Stevens, 24, was classified in 1-A by two Army doctors, Federal Judge Emerich B. Freed learned as he sentenced Stevens to three years in the federal reformatory at Milan, Mich.

Stevens was charged with failing to report for induction February 19 as ordered by his draft board. He pleaded guilty, claiming that he had always been in poor health.

Judge Freed also found Adam Stupak, 26, guilty of failing to report to a conscientious objectors' camp, and postponed sentence until Friday.

Stupak, a Jehovah's Witness, had sought deferment as a minister, was classified as a conscientious objector and ordered to report to camp. He refused to go, telling draft officials he could not "serve Jehovah God" and them.

FARM WORKER, 20, HURT

Robert Stephens, 20, of Deer-creek township, was taken to Berger hospital Tuesday afternoon for treatment of injuries suffered when he was struck on the head by a piece of farm equipment. Extent of his injury was not certain. Stephens was unconscious when he entered the hospital.

U. S. NAVY FAVORS PLANE CARRIERS

WASHINGTON, June 16—Sen. Brewster (R) Maine, a member of the Senate naval affairs committee, today said that the Navy is radically changing its program because of war developments and plans for building five battleships of 58,000 to 60,000 tons each have been abandoned in favor of aircraft carriers and lighter and faster vessels.

"The new plans are abundantly justified by developments and changed conditions," Brewster said.

Another reason for changing the building program, it was pointed out, is because it would take from three to five years to complete the battleships.

Lieut. Gen. Ritchie Draws Men From El Gazala In Face Of Heavy Attack

CAIRO, June 16—Lieut. Gen. Neil Methuen Ritchie has withdrawn his Libyan forces to the vicinity of Tobruk after successfully removing two divisions of troops from below El Gazala which were threatened by an axis thrust north of the Knightsbridge area to the Mediterranean coast, the British middle east high command said today.

(An authoritative spokesman in London said that the British had retired from the main fighting front and were practically back to the old defenses outside the fortified part of Tobruk, 60 miles west of the Egyptian frontier.)

(The spokesman said that Gen. Ritchie was still holding certain advance posts in the desert west of Tobruk. In view of the latest advice, the spokesman admitted, axis claims to have reached the sea "may well be true.")

As a result of the Gazala withdrawal, middle east headquarters, the Eighth Army remains an intact and maneuverable force. Mobile forces now are operating southward against the enemy flank.

Three separate attacks by German Field Marshal Erwin Rommel in the El Adem Sector, 30 miles below Tobruk, were said to have been repulsed, with the axis suffering heavy losses.

GIRL BEARS CHILD FOR BROTHER-IN-LAW TO GIVE HIM DRAFT DEFERMENT

SAN FRANCISCO, June 16—A young San Mateo, Cal., couple was named defendant today in a $100,000 seduction suit brought by the wife's 18-year-old sister, who charged they compelled her to bear a child by her brother-in-law. "He could claim draft deferment through dependency."

Plaintiff in the amazing suit is attractive Cornelia Van Ree, now in a San Francisco hospital with her four-days-old daughter, her second child. Her first died. She brought action in San Francisco superior court through her mother, Mrs. Mabel Olson of Monterey.

Named as defendants in the suit are Miss Van Ree's sister, Mrs. Alberta Turner, 25, and the latter's husband, G. E. Turner, 27-year-old pattern maker.

Told of the action filed against them, the couple vigorously denied the charges.

PARISHIONERS RAISE BOND FOR INDICTED MINISTER

PHILADELPHIA, June 16—The Rev. Kurt E. B. Molzahn, under federal indictment for asserted participation in an axis spy ring, was free after three days in jail today under $25,000 bail raised by parishioners of his pastorate, Philadelphia's Zion Lutheran church.

At a hearing before U. S. Commissioner Norman J. Griffin, federal agents will seek the minister's removal to Hartford, Conn., where he was indicted last Wednesday with four others for conspiracy to deliver National Defense information to Germany and Japan.

The Rev. Mr. Molzahn has denied the charges, which specify that he maintained a "postoffice" for the alleged spy ring in his historic church.

1,000 Czech Lives For One Nazi, Newest Decree

LONDON, June 16—A Thursday deadline for surrender by Czechs of the assassins of Reinhard Heydrich, Nazi "hangman," has been established by Kurt Daluege, Heydrich's successor as protector for Bohemia and Moravia, the Moscow radio reported today.

The broadcast quoted Geneva reports that Daluege had issued a proclamation which warned that in the future 1,000 Czechs would be executed for every German slain in the area of the protectorate.

Eighteen Poles have been executed recently, according to a British radio announcement. Three of the victims were charged with mistreatment of Germans, and two were said to have aided in the escape of a war prisoner.

BRITISH SILENT ON AXIS CLAIMS OF SEA VICTORY

Italy Reports Much Damage To Two Allied Convoys In Mediterranean

"LOSSES" ARE DISCLOSED

London Believed Waiting For Ships To Reach Port Prior To Statement

By LEO V. DOLAN
LONDON, June 16—For reasons best known to itself, the British admiralty maintained tight-lipped silence today in the face of claims from Rome that the Italian navy and air force has won a battle of great magnitude in the Mediterranean.

For the second day in succession, the Italian high command issued communiques asserting that terrific damage had been done in a running series of attacks on two "enemy" convoys in the Mediterranean. The impression given was that United States as well as British warships were involved.

This is the way the Italians listed the "enemy" losses:

- One cruiser sunk.
- One destroyer sunk.
- One destroyer hit.
- Two "units" sunk.
- Four ships set afire.
- One tanker set afire.
- Seven other vessels hit.

Italy admitted loss of a heavy cruiser and said a destroyer had been heavily damaged.

Losses Reported Heavy

But the losses alleged to have been suffered by the United Nations fleet were extraordinarily heavy. The admiralty apparently decided to wait until the results of the action had been assessed in every detail before issuing a communique.

An authoritative British spokesman, taking cognizance for the first time of the Italian reports, said there was little doubt that an attack "on a very large scale" occurred.

The Italian claims, he pointed out, are likely to prove inaccurate although some losses must be expected. British convoys, he said, are well protected by naval units and aircraft and the enemy would be unable to carry out attacks with impunity.

British losses, he said, probably will not be greater than expected. The latest Italian communique, broadcast from Rome and picked up by the Exchange Telegraph company, said:

"An air and naval engagement in the Mediterranean concluded last night.

THREE MEN JAILED FOR SMUGGLING STOLEN TIRES

HAVANA, June 16—Three men who police believed were Americans were under arrest today on charges of smuggling automobile tires. They said they were James W. Crotty, John E. Alexander and Forrest J. Johnson, but refused to say where they lived or what was their nationality. On motion of the price control commission, which has classed smuggling as a "fifth columnist" activity, the suspects were held for trial in the urgency court.

Even rigid hospital rules were relaxed for Sally, five-year-old Seeing Eye dog, when her blind master, Robert J. Losch, entered Bellevue hospital, New York, for an appendectomy. Sally refused to eat after Losch went to the hospital so officials finally eased the regulations to allow her to become the first dog ever admitted. Sally and Losch are pictured together above.

Federal Appointees Will Take Over Rationing Job

George D. McDowell Informed That Post As County Coordinator Will Be Eliminated Under Program Now Being Prepared

All rural rationing offices in Pickaway county, including that of George D. McDowell, coordinator, will be eliminated soon under federal rationing plans. A letter received Tuesday by Mr. McDowell from H. T. Beekman, state rationing director, outlined the elimination program.

It is expected that one board will be maintained in Circleville to handle all rationing for the entire county with a group of paid employees, possibly from federal pay-rolls, to handle the job.

The action came following recent announcement that local rationing would be consolidated into one board. The move relieves the volunteer work of all agencies throughout the state.

The letter received by Mr. McDowell follows in part.

"For several weeks I have delayed writing this letter for it is difficult to convey this message to the group of men who have made the rationing program in Ohio a success despite the tremendous difficulties encountered. I can sincerely say I wish I did not have to write it but I have no alternative."

"For some five months, most of you have served as county rationing coordinators, donating your services to the rationing program. Originally you were requested to supervise only the tire rationing program which would require only a few hours of your time each week. In the interim between that date and the present, additional products have been rationed. Through your organization and your boards the job is now demanding practically your full time."

"As you know, the Office of Production Administration is no longer confined to rationing but now also includes other unrelated programs such as price control, rent control and inspection. The advent of these programs plus the definite possibility that there will be additional rationing in the future has made it necessary to revise the local board set-up, which we are now in the process of doing."

"Although your job as county coordinator is being eliminated it is our hope that you will remain active in this program and in some instances assume other jobs that will be maintained in a new local board."

"Although we feel it is only fair to tell you of these plans at the present time, we request that you remain active until such time as the local county board set-up for your county has been established."

War Bulletins

LONDON — The German radio today admitted, according to Reuters news agency, that seaborne Soviet forces had carried out landing attempts at Yalta, in the Crimea, and Mariupol in the Ukraine, but claimed the attempts were "completely frustrated." The Mariupol landing reportedly was effected in an attempt to place Soviet forces behind the German lines in the Rostov area.

STOCKHOLM — Thirty prominent Norwegians of the town of Sarpsborg were forced to march through the streets with scrubbing brushes and remove anti-Quisling slogans that had been painted on walls, an Oslo dispatch reported today. Nazi Gestapo agents took photographs of the scenes and they later appeared in the Quisling press. (The British radio declared that a special "children's section" has been established in a Norwegian concentration camp. The youngest inmate was said to be four years old.)

JAP SOLDIERS MOVING TOWARD RED TERRITORY

CHUNGKING, June 16—The Chinese cabinet held an emergency session today to discuss a report that a Japanese invasion of Soviet Siberia is imminent.

Large numbers of Japanese troops were said to be pouring into Japanese-held Manchukuo.

Some Experts Hint Invader May Be In Size, Moving Farther East

WASHINGTON, June 16—In complete reports from fog-shrouded Alaskan waters indicated today that America's third stunning victory over Japan's so-called invincible navy may be in the making in the North Pacific.

Following closely the smashing American successes over the Nipponese in the Coral sea and at Midway island, preliminary advice from the Aleutians stated that as many as seven Japanese warships and one transport may have been sunk or damaged by U. S. bombers in that area.

On the basis of the Navy's latest communique which said that "air attacks on enemy landing parties" are continuing, naval experts declined, however, to claim another major victory for American forces pending more conclusive evidence from the isolated North Pacific.

These sources hesitated to claim definite victory in the fear that U. S. counter blows struck to date might not be sufficiently powerful to bar the Japs from their invasion objectives.

Weather Reported Bad

Pointing out that foul weather and fog has hampered American reconnaissance and attack operations, the Navy stated that reports "indicate" that at least three cruisers, one destroyer, one gunboat and one transport have been damaged, "some of them severely."

At the same time, a telegram of congratulations reportedly sent to officials of the Glenn L. Martin bomber plant in Baltimore by Lieut. Gen. H. H. Arnold, chief of the Army's air forces, apparently disclosed for the first time that a Jap cruiser was sunk and an enemy airplane carrier damaged in the Aleutian island area.

While the Navy is said to be in charge of operations in the North Pacific, a naval spokesman asserted that the department has no confirmation of reports other than those contained in the communique. However, Army officials failed to deny the report which the company said it received from Arnold.

Pending official confirmation or denial, therefore, these reports indicated a victory of major proportions may be in the making in the Aleutian area, where the Japanese landed at the western tip of the archipelago following the bombing of the Dutch Harbor naval base on June 3.

The Navy officially has admitted previously that the Japanese landed on Attu island, but its latest communique stated significantly that "the Army and Navy are continuing air attacks against the Japanese forces which recently (Continued on Page Two)

TWO REFUGEES WANT DAMAGES FROM BERGDOLL

NEW YORK, June 16—Two German refugees were to take the stand today before a supreme court jury in their suit to recover $50,000 from Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, who is now serving a sentence in Leavenworth as a World War I draft dodger.

Albert Nachman and the widow of his law partner, Mrs. Johanna Marum, are asking $5,000 and interest for legal services rendered Bergdoll in 1926 during his haven in Germany. Nachman said his partner, Ludwig Marum, died in a German concentration camp.

Judge Lloyd Church and the jury were shown documents by the plaintiffs which stipulated that Bergdoll agreed to pay $10,000 for his defense on a statutory charge but paid only half that sum, Ernst Stiefel, a former German attorney, introduced translation of the documents in German.

CAPITAL AWAITS REPORT OF NAVY FROM ALEUTIANS

Early Dispatches States That Three Cruisers, Three
Other Ships Struck

were reported to have landed on western islands of the Aleutian group.

Force May Be Of Size
This was construed by some naval experts as an indication that the Jap invasion forces may be of considerable size and possibly are oiling eastward despite counter-blows by American units.

"Except for these continuing air attacks on the enemy landing parties and their supporting naval contingents, the general situation in the Aleutian islands appears unchanged," the Navy said.

Naval analysts interpreted the latter statement as an indication that the Navy still does not consider the situation serious enough to constitute a threat to important American bases in that area or to the Pacific coast.

Some informed sources expressed the belief that continuing enemy operations in the Aleutians may be a feint to cloak another thrust at Midway, Hawaii, or an attack on the Pacific coast. The latter long has been considered an inevitable result of the American bombing attack on Japanese cities.

It was recalled that within 24 hours after the air raid on Dutch Harbor, a huge Japanese striking force hit Midway, only to be turned back after land and carrier-based U. S. bombers had sunk or damaged at least 17 Jap warships and auxiliary vessels.

The belief prevailed in official Washington that if American forces in Alaska succeeded in smashing another Jap invasion armada, Nippon's striking power might be blunted to the point where the enemy would have to go on the defensive henceforth.

Meanwhile, the report from Alaskan waters was that "foul weather and fog... are hampering our reconnaissance and attack operations..."

LARGE LOTTERY HIT IN FEDERAL JURY'S CHARGES

DETROIT, June 16—The government cracked down today on what was described as the "biggest lottery in the country" as a federal grand jury returned two indictments naming 63 persons and charged them with operating a $7,500,000 lottery in several states.

U. S. District Attorney John C.
Lehr said the organization operated "the biggest lottery in the country, having in some states a virtual monopoly on the sale of lottery tickets."

The defendants are residents of 10 states and their national sales organization handled 45 different types of lotteries, sports pools and policy rackets, Lehr said.

The largest lottery uncovered by postal inspectors, who worked on the case for two years, was that of the Republic of Cuba Hospital Fund lottery, a legitimate drawing held in Havana. Ernest J. Mansfield, a postal inspector from Atlanta, who with Postal Inspector Tennyson Jefferson of Boston, presented the case to the grand jury, said the sale of tickets on this lottery was designed to bring in $40,000,000 from this country.

The first indictment naming 63 persons, charges conspiracy to mail and transport lottery tickets.
The second, naming 16 of the persons already indicted, charges the use of the mails to defraud.

RUSSELL NAMED NEW PRESIDENT OF OSU BOARD

COLUMBUS, June 16—Burrell Russell of New Philadelphia today became chairman of the Ohio State university board of trustees to succeed Lockwood Thompson of Cleveland. Trustees also serve as a board of control for the Ohio Experiment station at Wooster.
Other officers of the board are Dr. Clinton J. Altmaier, Marion,
vice chairman; Carl E. Steeb, Columbus, secretary, and Hugh E.
Nesbitt, also of Columbus, treasurer.

Decrying a "rift in the clouds which bespeaks the promise of a better day," President Howard L.
Bevis struck a hopeful note in his address to a class of 1,000 men and 445 women who received degrees from Ohio State at commencement exercises yesterday.

"Signs are not wanting which may well prove portents, signs of the assertion of intelligence in the snarled and complicated business of human relationships," he asserted.

"Our handling of the war, itself, shows great advance over anything we ever did before. With all of the inevitable confusion incident to the transformation from a peace to a war economy, we are proceeding more rapidly, more surely, more gigantically than our enemies ever dreamed was possible.

"Democracy can make haste. In our use of man power—and woman power—we have used our brains instead of the blind forces of impulse, good or bad."

Emphasizing the role of leadership now and after the war, President Bevis told the graduates:
"Nothing thwarts mankind but man. Nothing paralyzes man but lack of leadership. Hope is not dead. With hope and faith and will, right leadership can take us
to the land of promise."

TOLL OF SHIPS SOARS TO 242

lowed up by the sea within a minute and a half after the torpedo struck, according to some of the 27 survivors.

At a South Atlantic port, 52 survivors of a torpedoed American cargo ship of medium size landed in lifeboats with the aid of sails.
They had waved away two Brazilian ships which hove to for the rescue, they said, fearing the submarine might still be lurking in the area. Two men were killed in the engine room of the cargo ship
when the torpedo struck.

The fourth sinking was that of a ship of unspecified size and nationality from which 26 survivors reached an east Canadian port.

RUSSIAN FLEET HURLING HEAVY SHELLS ON FOE

Bloody Bayonet Charges Put Germans Back On Heels,
Moscow Announces

way in the Kursk sector, 200 miles to the North, relieving German pressure in the Ukraine battle zone.

Fierce battling at Sevastopol raged into its 13th day with the Soviet defenders holding firm
despite terrific German poundings from land batteries and luftwaffe bombers.

The Red army high command announced that Soviet forces in the Kharkov sector had repelled numerous attacks by German tank and infantry forces. Some 150 Nazi tanks were said to have been destroyed or damaged in yesterday's fighting alone.

The famed heights of Balaklava, scene of the historic "charge of the light brigade," took on a prominent role in the battle for the Sevastopol naval base.

The Moscow radio said powerful units of the Soviet Black Sea fleet took up position from which they were battering German artillery on the heights of Balaklava.

SUPER TAX ON INCOMES ASKED

called for a flat limitation of $25-000 on all personal incomes.

"Discrepancies between low personal incomes and very high personal incomes should be lessened," the President declared,
"and I therefore believe that in time of this grave national danger, when all excess income should go to win the war, no American citizen ought to have a net income, after he has paid his taxes, of more than $25,000 a year."

Under the plan submitted by the treasury 11,000 single persons and married couples would have to pay the supertax, and about $184,000,000 in additional revenues would flow into the treasury yearly.

ALL ARE URGED TO GIVE AID IN SALVAGE DRIVE

County Committee, Others Confer On Program in Pickaway Area

MANY ITEMS AVAILABLE

Entire Campaign Mapped As Non-Profit Drive To Boost Supply

Pickaway county's salvage drive got its official opening Monday afternoon when members of the salvage committee and other officials met to discuss the program.

Dan McClain, chairman of the county salvage committee, Leslie May, chairman of the petroleum industry for this area and E. K. Blair and John Boggs, representing the War Board of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, announced at the confab that every filling station in the county would accept rubber until June 30. They urged residents to lend their support to the project.

Scrap rubber of all descriptions is expected in the collection, a government undertaking to stabilize the rubber shortage. The members in charge of the local drive have asked that persons search for any of the following articles and take them to any gas station in this area: worn out tires and tubes, hot water bottles and rubber tubing, rubber toys (balls, tires from bicycles, baby buggies, etc.), stair treads and door mats, rubber floor mats (from baggage compartment of car).

Many Items Needed

Garden hose, old rubber soles and heels, tennis shoes, rubber bathing shoes, caps and suits, rubber gloves, rubber sheets, rubber baby pants, teething rings, overshoes (galoshes and boots), raincoats and rain hats, wringer rolls, rubber fly swatters, rubber sponges, rubber door stops and bumpers, rubber kneeling pads, rubber sink drain pads and mats, rubber aprons, rubber bottle stoppers, rubber bathtub mats, rubber exercisers, rubber stockings, reducing corsets, golf balls, tennis balls, rubber stove pads, rubber washers, rubber bands, broken jar rings, toy balloons.

Many Pounds Expected

Emphasizing the fact that if the drive doesn't go over the likely result will be gas rationing and necessity of many persons staying at home instead of driving, the board expects hundreds of pounds of the scrap to be turned in. Many filling stations are still in need of scales and any one having bathroom or other types of scales is asked to loan them to stations in need.

The entire setup is a non-profit affair, with persons to receive one cent a pound for the scrap from the attendants. They will be reimbursed by the United States Rubber Recovery Committee when the total collection is made and sent to plants throughout the nation for re-use. Any profit that is made from the undertaking will be turned over to the U.S.O., Army Relief, Navy Relief, and American Red Cross by the government.

In Ashville, C. E. Mehaffey heads the salvage group; in New Holland, William Skinner; in South Bloomfield, Arthur Deal, and in Williamsport, Rev. Robert Meyer.

Draft Boards Ready To Clamp Down On Men Not Reporting Addresses

Majority of Ohio's 330 Selective Service boards have reached the point where they are "fed-up" with anonymous "tipsters," and with registrants who "conveniently" forget to notify their local boards of any change in their work, dependency or physical condition.

In an effort to combat and eliminate both "nuisances," many local boards throughout the state are seriously considering applying immediately the provisions of the Selective Training and Service Act, as amended, the "teeth" thereof, whereby prosecution is liable for registrants who conceal any information that might change their status, and in the future, to ignore all anonymous informers, officials said.

Many local boards do not conceal the fact from state headquarters that a list of registrants is being quietly compiled of those who have failed to notify them of changes in their marital status, changes in their jobs, or in the degree of dependency.

May Go To Jury These boards, unless conditions are remedied immediately, are planning to prepare a "large number" of such cases for submission to the federal grand juries.

Commenting on the apparent laxity of many registrants to keep local boards fully informed of their current status, Colonel C. W. Goble, State Director, cited the provisions of the Act as follows:

"Every man subject to registration is required to familiarize himself with the rules and regulations governing registration and to comply therewith;

"Every person is deemed to have notice of the requirements of the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940, as amended, and of the rules and regulations prescribed thereunder upon the publication by the President of a proclamation or other public notice fixing a time for registration."

The director pointed out that all persons who fail to comply with the provisions of Section Eleven of the Act, subject themselves to the penalty thereof, which upon conviction in a district court of the United States having jurisdiction, is punishable by imprisonment for not more than five years or a fine of $10,000.00, or both, and that precedence be given by such courts to the trial of such cases arising under the Act.

"It is the duty and obligation of every registrant to report immediately to his local board: Any changes of address, any change in his work, dependents or physical condition," Colonel Goble said.

"Many registrants, of late, have generally neglected to comply with this duty and obligation. That is why many local boards in the state are convinced they must now use the strong measures the 'teeth' provided in the Act. Board members hold they cannot continue to do their jobs unless registrants completely comply with the regulations."

Information on all changes of status must be written out in full by the registrant, and filed with the board by the registrant, because clerks in every local board office," the Director said, "are too busy and are not empowered to take such information over the telephone. Furthermore, telephone conversation, in no instance, can be considered as authentic."

"Information received from local boards reveals that, in recent months, practically all information on changes of status have been received in the form of anonymous letters."

"Local board members, in the face of mounting duties, no longer have the time to check the information in unsigned letters, some of which have proved false and misleading."

"In the future, board members should give consideration only to letters properly signed, or to persons who appear at board offices, and, upon request, be accorded a hearing."

"State headquarters and all local boards welcome all authentic information," the state director said, "but all members of the Selective Service System are 'fed-up' with the type of citizen who is ashamed to sign his own name to a letter protesting another man's lack of patriotism."

Farm WAR NEWS

Storage on the farm probably will mean extra dollars in the pockets of Pickaway county wheat growers, John G. Boggs, chairman of the Pickaway county AAA committee, said today.

"The farmer who is eligible for a loan on his wheat will receive $1.25 a bushel for his wheat plus an additional 7 cents a bushel for storage, making a total of $1.32 a bushel," he pointed out.

Farmers who have not as yet constructed storage space on the farm for their grain need only review what happened in 1941 to get an insight into what probably will happen this year, Mr. Boggs declared.

"There was an enormous movement of wheat in the short harvest season of 1941," he recalled, "and farmers who lacked storage space and who had to sell their wheat received 20 cents a bushel less than the future option prices of the Chicago Board of Trade."

The AAA chairman predicted that the situation will be worse this year for farmers "caught short of storage space," and he said that farmers in such a predicament probably will get 20 to 30 cents a bushel less than the 1942 loan price.

Mr. Boggs' advice to local farmers is to "get busy now and rig up some storage bins while there is time."

"Seal your corn cribs if you have to," he said. "This will be the best solution in many cases. The sealed corn cribs will afford temporary storage, and it will be easier to find a place to store the corn."

Mr. Boggs also warned farmers not to bank too much on the Commodity Credit Corporation's steel storage bins which the AAA now is moving into the state, nor the pre-fabricated wooden bins which the C. C. C. is contracting to have manufactured.

"The steel storage bins will alleviate the storage situation only slightly," he said. "Their total capacity of 1,250,000 bushels of wheat represents only a 'drop in the bucket' and it will be reserved for 1941 wheat. It is doubtful that many farmers will be able to purchase the pre-fabricated wooden bins in time for harvest, since there has been a delay in contracting for their construction, and because the harvest season will very likely come early this year."

The best advice that anybody can give farmers who want to protect their cash wheat crop is to start construction of some kind of farm storage bin immediately," the AAA chairman concluded.

WICKARD PLAN FOR 1943 WHEAT CROP DEBATED

WASHINGTON, June 16 — House farm leaders were confused and "startled" today by Secretary of Agriculture Wickard's reported 1943 plan to reduce wheat production by paying special benefits to farmers who plant less than allotted acreage in that surplus crop.

Against the showing of some opposition and uncertainty was the approval voiced by Rep. Hope (R) Kan., ranking minority member of the House agriculture committee, who considered the proposal a "very good idea."

The benefit plan would have farmers voluntarily convert part or all of their wheat acreage to products more needed in the war effort—soybeans, livestock feed, dairy products and others.

Less worry about the surplus and more attention to "using it now for war purposes" was the sharp recommendation of Rep. Stefan (R) Neb., who said:

"Secretary Wickard would be doing the country a great service and would help the war effort if he would concentrate more on turning surplus wheat into grain alcohol for powder and butadiene that worrying about there being too much food.

May Need More

"My prediction is that as the war progresses there'll be a greater demand for wheat for bread as well as for alcohol for powder and synthetic rubber — so much more that he needn't worry about the present surplus."

Rep. Case (R) S. D., pointed out that wheat acreage in the big wheat areas now is so low that farmers are having trouble meeting obligations. He added:

"The wicked idea startled me because it raises so many difficult questions. One of these is whether it's desirable to use the treasury for crop control. Another is the difficulty of shifting wheat areas to other crops because of rainfall, types of available farm equipment, character of soil and other matters. I don't think you can make the change overnight."

Present estimates indicate that with existing wheat stocks and the 1942 crop there will be available 1,440,000,000 bushels for the coming year, or until July 1943. Normal consumption is 700,000,000 bushels, exclusive and emergency use for alcohol or livestock feed.

A single-seat combat plane uses 5,500 pounds of aluminum.

A Busted Hot Water Bottle May Help Win The War!

... REMEMBER the old time ballad which says, "For the want of a rider a battle was lost?" Well, we're not going to lose this war, but a leaky hot water bottle may supply the extra ounce of scrap rubber that will more quickly give the Axis the axe.

Uncle Sam wants that old rubber right now!

Yes, the government wants every disused or worn out article made of rubber that can be sent to the nation's stock pile, and wants you to help get it there in a hurry.

Oil Industry is collecting it!

Starting June 15th, and continuing through June 30th, all FLEETWING GASOLINE STATIONS from coast to coast will help collect scrap rubber and will pay ...

A penny a pound in spot cash for every pound contributed by you ... so take all the old rubber you can collect to the nearest gas station today.

None of the oil companies will receive one penny of profit for this service to the nation. Through the cooperation and efforts of thousands of dealers and gasoline company employees, the scrap rubber will be turned over to the government and will be paid for by Uncle Sam on the basis of $25 per ton (2000 pounds). The difference between the amount paid by the oil companies and the amount paid by the government has been pledged to the USO, Navy Relief, Army Relief and American Red Cross.

May help avert gasoline rationing in Central West

Since a shortage of rubber is considered the main reason for the threatened rationing of gasoline in the central states, this is one important way to do your part, and it MAY help to ward off the need for curtailment of this vital commodity.

THE TURNING TIDE

FOR weeks people starved for war news. They knew there were big, momentous things going on, but could only see them as through a glass, darkly. Then toward the end of last week came a sudden change. The journalistic heavens were opened. There came such a flood of news about the Pacific war and the great victories of the Coral Sea and Midway Island that Americans could only read endlessly, in joyful reassurance and admiration for the national fighting forces.

Was there ever a more thrilling turn of the tide in a big war? Japan's "sneak punch" at Pearl Harbor had suddenly reduced the United States to perilous inferiority in the Pacific area, which the enemy exploited to the utmost. At one stroke a vast, rich region was lost and our forces were put on the defensive everywhere west of San Francisco. That period lasted nearly six months. Then within a space of three weeks, by brilliant naval and air operations, the tide was turned, half the naval and air power of the Japanese was destroyed, and they were put definitely on the defensive.

With our power rising as theirs sinks, it is reasonable to expect that the wearing-down and driving-out process will continue until their power is completely destroyed and the whole Pacific area is redeemed.

EATING ON THE FARM

A NEWSPAPER man recently hired out as a farm hand, to find out what really happened on a farm. He found out. Milking sounded easy and looked easy, but without practice it wasn't. He plowed, and liked it. He sawed wood and lived to tell the tale. He pitched hay. He fed stock. He cut potatoes for planting. He helped Clarence mend the potato planter and found that a farmer has to be a mechanic as well as everything else.

He persisted for two or three weeks and liked it fine. But when asked what part he liked best, he said "eating."

Everybody "eats on the farm," so to speak, but some people do their eating a long way off, and the flavor is different. It seems that the nearer one gets to the source of the milk, butter, bacon, eggs, cottage cheese, pickled peaches, apple pie and fried chicken, the better it tastes. Many boys will learn what farm life is like for the first time this Summer. They will find some of the going tough, no doubt, especially the first week or two. But cheer up, boys and stick it out. Don't forget that after working comes eating.

WORLD AT A GLANCE

—By—
Charles P. Stewart

Charles P. Stewart

TO SAY that wartime Washington was interested in recent news that Germany is to stop brewing beer on July 1, for the "duration," is to express it entirely too mildly. Guessers at the situation in Nazi-land were outright excited over the tidings. They're discussing them as a serious development. The report apparently is well authenticated, too. It was scooped in by British listeners from a Berlin broadcast, the authors of which evidently didn't realize the rejoicing it would inspire in the world's democratic countries.

This isn't a mere josh, either. It's the consensus of plenty of good judgment, by no means jocular in its nature, that the Germans must be in pretty desperate dietary straits any time they cut out beer.

him that they were sufficiently famine-stricken to suspend beer production 100 per cent. How much they've got slashed away, in bottles and tanks, to last them, he doesn't know, but he surmises that they'll need an ocean of it to keep them lubricated, up to their kind of requirements, for very long.

To be sure, it's planned here, in the U. S. A., to end the distillation of "hard drinks" for the rest of the "duration" soon, in order to concentrate on our alcoholic output for industrial purposes, impossible for human consumption. However, we've got on hand an adequate quantity to keep us going for a matter of some years before American bars have to close. American "soft drinks" are scarcer than hard ones right now. Our last siege of prohibition was a lesson to Yankee distillers. They distilled and distilled up to a maximum following that experience. Today, they say, we're in no immediate danger of a shortage. There also is a threat of an American dearth of bottled beer. That, though, isn't predicated upon its military undesirability as beer, for itself alone. It's because caps on the bottles have been too exclusively metallic, and the metal is demanded for military purposes. Maybe the brewers will hit on some substitute, such as doctored paper. Or, at the worst, the stuff will be available out of the "kag." As might have been expected, there's a renewal in our own midst of prohibition talk. Yet it isn't overly energetic thus far.

I suppose the "drys" were considerably dampened by their previous attempt at prohibition.

Prohibition's Flop
I very well know Dr. J. M. Duran, their last national enforcement officer. Over a dram, the doc has told me repeatedly that it's an impossible form of regulation, though he did his best to make it stick while on the job.

So prohibition, being so recent and fully remembered, is middling hard to reinstate this soon. True, there's a bit of agitation in prohibition's favor in the neighborhood of Army and Navy posts. Senator Theodore G. Bilbo of Mississippi is plugging for it vigorously, and he has some support. Even Bilbo, though, doesn't ask for it on an all-out basis. He says he's pro prohibition nationally, but not just now. He thinks he can make it stick limitedly—but that's about all.

Army and Navy officers don't generally agree with him. Their theory is that it'll make our troops and sailors sore, to be discriminated against, in a way—if that is discrimination. That is how they think the inductees will feel, and they don't believe it will be good for morale. The prohibitionists, of course, believe it will be grand—and for the home folk also, worried as to the kids' morals, as well as their morals. Bilbo himself declared himself FER it, but not necessarily generally, in the present emergency. Nevertheless, it's a trend. But Germany! And beer!

BY DREW PEARSON AND ROBERT S. ALLEN

NO CHANCE OF REVOLT

WASHINGTON—After returning on the Drottningholm, Leland B. Morris, U. S. charge d'affaires in Berlin, and George Wadsworth, charge in Rome, gave the Senate Foreign Relations Committee some eye-opening slants on international conditions, in the Axis countries, coupled with a blunt warning. The warning was: "Don't depend on the peoples of Germany and Italy revolting against their masters."

There is only a long-shot chance of an Axis collapse through revolution, the two diplomats reported. The German and Italian people, they said, are under such severe military rule and surveillance, that it would be extremely difficult to plan, much less carry out, revolts at present.

Morris, who served in Berlin about 18 months, also pooh-poohed rumors that the German people are not loyal to Hitler.

"They are weary of war," he said, "but they are still faithful to Hitler. Make no mistake about that. They may not consider him the idol they once did, but they are still behind him. Anyone who thinks otherwise is fooling himself."

Asked about German "morale," Morris replied that from the standpoint of loyalty to the Fuehrer, "it was good."

Wadsworth said the Italian people are kept in such subjugation and fear by the Germans that it was difficult to get a true expression of their feelings, though the morale of the Italians definitely was not as good as that of the Germans.

"Do you think there is any possibility of a revolt in Italy in the next year?" he was asked.

"I do not," Wadsworth replied.

After the battle of Midway, a high-ranking army officer who believes in air strength called up a press association and said: "Have you written your lead yet on the battle? If not, here it is: 'The Air Corps has done the job. Both Japanese and American fleets are in retreat.' " . . . Inside dope is that neither American nor Japanese battleships got close enough to each other to fire a shot. . . . Little news is permitted to leak out of Denmark. But every now and then a reliable report gets through that shows the spirit of the Danes, like that of their indomitable Norwegian cousins, remains unbroken.

Recently during the showing of a German newsreel in a Copenhagen theater, Hitler was flashed on the screen boarding a military plane. Immediately some one (Continued on Page Eight)

Gallbladder Diseases Difficult To Diagnose

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

WE POINTED out yesterday that the gallbladder is a sort of reservoir for the accumulation of bile but that it is not at all necessary to life because it can be removed without any physiological changes and, in fact, many animals do not possess a gallbladder at all.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

Structures of this kind which do not play an active, necessary part in life's processes are very subject to disease and derangement and the gallbladder is no exception to this rule. It is probably as commonly diseased as any other structure in the body in the persons of people over 40 years old. Most of its various derangements are due to infection and this is not surprising since all of the blood from the intestine, which is loaded with bacteria and toxins, goes through the liver and is excreted in the bile and comes to rest for a while in the gallbladder. After this has happened for 30 or 40 years, there are very few people who escape some degree of gallbladder infection.

Effect of Childbirths

As we also pointed out yesterday, pregnancy cause stasis in the gallbladder and prevents its normal emptying so it is not surprising to find that women who have gone through two or three childbirths are more subject to gallbladder diseases than men.

The changes which a gallbladder may undergo are bewildering in their variety. They progress from stage to stage or they may stop at any stage and become quiescent, but they produce the whole gamut of human symptoms and illness. The early stage is a mild catarrhal inflammation. At this time bacteria and mucus will be found in the bile which will be thicker than normal in the gallbladder. This may go on either to pus formation or to the formation of gallstones. After gallstones occur, they may be silent or they may begin to move down the duct, causing colic, jaundice and indigestion. The innervation of the gallbladder is mostly from the automatic nervous system which has a connection with the stomach.

This nerve supply is of great importance in explaining the symptomatology in gallbladder disease for the symptoms are often referred to the stomach or to the heart or lower chest. In fact, in a study of several thousand patients, it was found that gallbladder disease causes dyspepsia of some type in 20 per cent of all cases. This is a higher percentage of dyspepsia than would be found in an equal number of people who had ulcer of the stomach, cancer of the digestive tract or appendicitis.

Most patients with gallstones, therefore, do not have a frank gallstone colic or attack, but are bothered for years with dyspepsia and gas which they treat with bicarbonate of soda and other remedies without even knowing that the real cause of their distress is in the gallbladder.

Chills, fever, jaundice, lack of appetite, loss of weight and anemia are all possible signs of gallbladder disease. Melancholia simply means black bile and the old physicians thought that when a man was melancholy his black bile was in the ascendancy. So the diagnostician must consider carefully before pronouncing judgment on what kind of gallbladder disease is present. Fortunately with the Graham dye test we have a more reliable, positive sign for gallbladder disease than we ever had before.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

W. E. —What is a systolic heart murmur? Would exercise be bad for it and would it be possible for a heart doctor not to discover it during an examination?

Answer: A systolic heart murmur is a murmur that comes with the contraction of the heart. It occurs in all sorts of conditions and is, in fact, the commonest form of heart murmur. It usually does no harm to take exercise with a systolic heart murmur. It would be possible for a heart doctor on an examination to miss anything.

Romance Thumbs a Ride

by ALLEN EPPES

SYNOPSIS

DIAN WESTON, attractive Ardendale girl, is flitted, and her aunt, MISS MARTHA WESTON, tries to persuade her to marry JEROME CARR, a local banker. Dian claims that it would be more appropriate for her aunt to marry him.

CHAPTER TWO

NOT THAT Dian's heart was breaking because Fred was going to marry another. She didn't really think it was. But she was humiliated, and mad. And she wanted to get away. "I'm probably silly and a coward," she told herself, "but I can't stay here another day, and have Aunt Martha looking at me in that pitying way of hers." If only she could go somewhere away from Aunt Martha, and questions, and curious looks. If only she could find a quiet spot way off somewhere, and there—

The farm! That was just the place for her! Out there, puttering around, looking over the things her Grandfather Weston had left her, she might be able to think things out, plan some sort of future for herself. She leaped to her feet, ran into the house and up the stairs.

Up in her room, she quickly found a suitcase and began stuffing things into it, excited, eyes shining, fingers flying. The farm! How wonderful! That place where she had often gone when she was a little girl—out to stay with her grandfather and have him talk to her in such a way as to make her forget the thing that had made her unhappy in town, and had sent her out to the comfort of his arms. If he were only out there now, she thought. He would listen, like old times, to her tale of woe and help her find a way to rise above what was troubling her.

"Mustn't let your Aunt Martha make you too unhappy," her grandfather had said. "She's a bit sore on the world at times—like most women who never got married—but way down deep she's a mighty fine person. . . . And again he had said: "Nothing will ever get you down unless you let it. You're a Weston, child, and a Weston, man or woman, is a lot bigger than any little old problem that comes along trying to ride him."

Anyway, being out in the house that was so pregnant with memories of her grandfather and the happy days she had spent there with him, would be a help. Out there in the house that Grandfather Weston had loved so deeply, she would find it easier to get hold of herself. She might even start cataloging the books her grandfather had left her. She had been planning to do this for some time, and perhaps now was the time. Cataloging books ought to be a nice job for a girl who had been flitted! She finished her packing, donned a hat, and picked up the suitcase. She stopped in the kitchen long enough to slip in some bread, a tin of coffee, and a few things she knew the farmhouse pantry could not supply. This done, she went out through the back door, locked it behind her, and crossed the yard to where the Weston family car stood—a car which had been in the family for a forgotten number of years, and which, she thought, ought to be relegated to a museum that specialized in antiquities.

She climbed in and slid under the wheel, thinking how fortunate it was that Aunt Martha had decided to save gas and go to the meeting in Miss Aggie's sedan. She pressed her foot down upon the starter. Well, here I go! Dian Weston, running away from gossip and questions! Dian Weston, going off by herself to see what she could do about the years to come!

But nothing happened. The engine did not respond. Stubborn, like Aunt Martha, that's what it was. She pressed the starter again and again. Still nothing happened. More pressing, more silence. Then finally there was a spell of coughing, of wheezing, of sputtering—beneath the old-fashioned hood just curled up like a sick puppy and died. There was no getting away so far as the ancient Weston bus was concerned.

Slowly Dian got out of the car, and slowly she walked around it, thinking words she had never heard in Sunday school. No flange! And now no car! A vehicle on four wheels, and as useless as a huge white elephant. Warily, worried, she took her suitcase from the rear seat where she had carefully placed it, and went around to the front of the house.

Of course the logical thing to do was telephone for a taxicab, although taxicabs were none too plentiful in Ardendale. But she had exactly one dollar and ninety-four cents to her name, and the taxi fare out to her lonely destination would be that much, if not more.

She also thought of several young men who would probably be glad to drive her out to where she wanted to go. But she simply couldn't face them. It was bad enough having Aunt Martha pity her, let alone the young men. Heavens, no! The young men were definitely out, especially those who had wanted to date her up and couldn't, because Fred Mayhew was always hanging around, waiting to take her to a movie, or a dance, or to see a show that was playing a one-night stand in town. "Oh, Lord," she said half aloud, "am I in a mess!"

She even thought of calling Jerome Carr. Jerome had the finest car in Ardendale, a car that would get her to her destination in no time at all, if Jerome would let her have the gas. But of course he wouldn't. Jerome was so terribly, terribly careful about everything—like speeding, spending money, making love. Besides, he was one of the people she wanted to avoid. He would ask a million questions, give her unwanted advice, and probably end up by urging her to marry him right away, now that that aimless young upstart Fred Mayhew was out of the way. She could fairly hear him describing Fred in just those words. No, Jerome was out—along with the men of her own generation.

She sat down the suitcase with a dull thud, and it fell open. A number of articles tumbled out—simple clothing for wear in the country, a loaf of bread to eat with some of the canned foods which she knew were in the farmhouse pantry, some dainty undies—"which might have been part of my trousseau"—and a pair of low-heeled, sensible looking shoes.

It was when she was picking up the shoes that she heard the approaching car. Still holding one of the shoes, she straightened up to see who was coming. Maybe it was Aunt Martha and Miss Aggie, returning from the meeting. It was early, and yet she had taken an awful lot of time trying to get the car started. But it wasn't Aunt Martha and Miss Aggie in Miss Aggie's sedan. It was a roadster with the top down, and if it wasn't Joe Algood's, then she didn't know the local roadsters when she saw them.

Good old Joe! Like an older brother to her. Always sweet and understanding and sympathetic. Just the person to take her out to the farm! Luck was with her at last—sending along good old Joe Algood, of all people.

The roadster was almost in front of the house. She waved wildly. "Joe!" she called. "Joe Algood!" But the roadster went right on by.

"Well, of all things!" Dian gasped. And then almost before she realized what she was doing, she let fly with the shoe which she was still holding. "There!" she cried angrily. "Take that! You're a fine one—not stopping when I call!"

And then the roadster did stop—just before it hit a tree.

STARS SAY—

For Tuesday, June 16

A PRODUCTIVE and prosperous day is forecast according to the predominant astral influences. While the progress may not be to any spectacular degree, yet an encouraging measure of support and approbation may be expected from large corporations, political or diplomatic bodies as well as from friends, superiors or officials whose cooperation is essential.

Those whose birthday it is may count upon a progressive and satisfactory year, with new and important projects having the hearty support of those in power as well as financial standing, although it would be advisable not to attempt to overtax the generosity of such well disposed co-operators. Tendencies to overdo or spurge should be regulated.

Bride-Elect Is Honored At Country Club Party

Miss Mary Crites To Be Wed On Thursday

Honoring Miss Mary Crites, a bride-elect, Mrs. John Hayward of Kingston, Jamaica, entertained a group of her friends at a delightful evening party Monday at the Pickaway Country Club. Miss Crites will become Mrs. Hildeburn Jones at an evening wedding Thursday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Crites, North Court street. Mrs. Hayward is the former Mary Newmyer and is visiting her mother, Mrs. A. D. Newmyer, North Court street.

Summer flowers were the colorful decorations for the lovely party.

Four tables of contract bridge were made up during the evening and after the progressive rounds, favors for scores were carried home by Mrs. John Moore Jr. of Circleville and Mrs. William Dunlap of Williamsport.

Mrs. Hayward presented Miss Crites a beautiful gift.

Present for the occasion were Mrs. E. O. Crites, Mrs. Florence Rector Jones, Mrs. Newmyer, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. William Gray, Mrs. Fred Grant, Mrs. P. C. Routzahn, Mrs. Ned Plum, Mrs. James Reichelderfer, Mrs. Franklin Crites, Miss Eleanor Dreisbach, Miss Ruth Robinson, Miss Emily Gunning, Miss Jane Mader, Miss Marjorie Mader, Miss Mary K. May, Mrs. Hayward and Miss Crites, the honor guest, of Circleville; Mrs. William Dunlap, Williamsport, and Mrs. Robert McIntyre of Coshocton.

Refreshments served at the small tables concluded the pleasant affair.

Luther League

Luther league of Trinity Lutheran church held a splendid meeting Monday in the parish house, the indoor entertainment being an excellent Bible quiz in charge of Miss Ruth Melvin. The evening was concluded with volley ball games on the parish courts.

Ned Dresbach conducted the business hour during which plans were made for a bicycle hike for Friday. Members are requested to gather at the church at 7 p. m. and to take lunch for the picnic supper at a surprise destination. Plans were completed for weekly volley ball games to be each Wednesday night.

The next regular meeting of the league will be Sunday, July 12, when the group will go to Tar Hollow park at 1 p. m. for an outdoor meeting and picnic.

The Rev. George L. Troutman led the devotional service of scripture reading, group singing, and prayer.

Seasonal refreshments were served by the hospitality committee headed by Miss Margaret Good and comprised of Miss Sara Lane Cook, Miss Evelyn Henn, Walter Melvin, Jimmy Sersenbrenner, Paul Ott and Paul Helwagen.

Miss Dunton Entertains

Miss Mary Heffner and Mrs. James Adams were additional players when Miss Florence Dunton, South Court street, entertained her contract bridge club Monday at her home.

Several rounds of bridge resulted in prizes going to Mrs. Mary Beck and Miss Winifred Parrett. A salad course was served after the games.

When the club meets in two weeks, Miss Besse Fry will be hostess.

Bridge Club

Two tables of contract bridge progressed Monday when Mrs. J. Wray Henry entertained her club at the Henry home, North Court street. Mrs. Mary G. Morris played as a substitute.

Mrs. Richard Robinson and Mrs. George Foerster were awarded prizes for scores. Light refreshments were served. Mrs. Robinson will be next hostess.

RADIO BRIEFS

Each Tuesday at 8:30 p. m., Curley Lambeau has tuned in the Red network to listen to Horace Heidt's "Treasure Chest." Curley, coach of the famed Green Bay Packers football team, is a Heidt enthusiast from way back. He's missed tuning in the program for the first time, however, on Tuesday, June 16. It was a very good reason, though, because on that night Curley was on the program as one of Heidt's unusual guests from Milwaukee.

Golf rivalries are not exactly a novelty, but that between Jay Jostyn, NEC's "Mr. District Attorney," and Len Doyle, who is heard as Harrington, his aide, has a novel scoring system. They keep score on a cumulative basis from week to week, with the result that Jay now leads Len by three strokes, 1384 to 1387, for 17 rounds.

Frank Black has to have quite a memory to remember the names of his musicians. For instance this week he'll baton three different musical organizations on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. They Sixteen steel bins for the storage of wheat are almost completed on the Brundige property where the old elevator stood. The bins are part of an allotment of 30 given to Ross county by the Commodity Credit corporation, each capable of storing 2700 bushels. Mr. Fred Orr says even with the bins and other storage facilities now being arranged their will be a serious shortage of storage space this fall.

Mr. Orr is the county AAA chairman.

Can you guess the Answers?

A QUICK QUIZ FOR THE PEOPLE WHO ARE WORKING HARDER BECAUSE OF THE WAR!

1 This happens to be (A) a firebrick, (B) a whetstone, (C) a method of getting more light from existing lamps or fixtures.

2 There's a clue here which shows whether this young lady is (A) playing peekaboo, (B) just waking up, (C) suffering from eyestrain.

3 Here we have (A) a raindrop magnified 150 times, (B) method of making reading or studying easier, (C) glass baking dish.

4 This is (A) a mixing bowl, (B) part of new all-glass automobile headlamp, (C) device for removing glare from reading lamps, (D) eye cup.

Check your score with these right answers!

- (C) It's a cake of soap! Dust and dirt build up on bulbs and reflectors almost before you know it! Soap and water can often double the light you get from the same current.
- (C) The clue, if you look closely, is the thimble on her finger. She's suffering from eyestrain because she's been doing her mending and sewing in poor light.
- (B) An eyeglass lens. Symbolic of the important part eyes must play in winning the war. If you're using your eyes longer and harder these days, have them examined.
- (C) An IES Better Sight Lamp Reflector—the glass or plastic bowl which has revolutionized lighting in millions of homes by providing abundant light without annoying glare.

MORAL: DON'T BE A LIGHTWASTER!

Eyesight and electricity are vital to the war effort. Conserve both! When you read, work or study have enough light to guard against eyestrain—but don't waste it! When you need bulbs, buy carefully. Get the right sizes! They'll help you avoid being a lightwaster.

GREAT GOLFERS TO ADD SHARE TO VITAL FUNDS

CHICAGO, June 16—The stage was set at the Ridgemoor Country club today for golfdom's biggest show of the year—the Hale America National Open tournament—which gets under way Thursday with 107 of the nation's top-flight performers vying for the $8,000 in prizes.

The Hale America tournament represents golf's chief contribution of 1942 to war relief. The event is being sponsored by the Professional Golfers Association of America, the Chicago District Golf Association and the United States Golf Association. Net proceeds of the tournament will be equally divided between the Naval Relief Society and the United Service organizations.

Special exhibitions by outstanding golfers, including Capt. Robert Tyre Jones Jr., of the Army Air Corps, Bob Hope and Bing Crosby, will be given during the course of the tournament Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Jones and Crosby are scheduled for a pre-tournament appearance tomorrow.

In the tournament proper, Jones has been paired with Craig Wood, 1941 Open champion, and Ed Dudley, president of the P.G.A.

Appearance of Sam Snead, newly crowned P.G.A. champion, and Bud Ward, amateur titleholder, was somewhat doubtful, as both men are in service. Corp. Jim Turnesa of Fort Dix, whom Snead defeated in the P.G.A. finals, has obtained another furlough and will be paired with Ralph Guldahl and Johnny Dawson.

BREWERS SLASH KASEY LEAD IN ASSOCIATION

COLUMBUS, June 16—Taking both ends of a double-header from Indianapolis, 1-0 and 9-8, the Milwaukee Brewers today stood only one game out of a tie for first place with the American Association leaders, Kansas City, who were idle yesterday.

The Columbus Red Birds continued in sixth place, and unhappy, after being upset, 6-3 yesterday by the seventh place St. Paul Saints. Only other game in the association yesterday was between Minneapolis and Toledo, won by the former, 3-2.

BATTLES TO COLUMBIA

NEW YORK, June 16—Cliff Battles, one of the greatest running backs in professional football, today was the new head basketball coach at Columbia university. Battles, who was an all-American in his senior year at West Virginia Wesleyan in 1931, has been assistant football coach at Columbia since 1938. He succeeds Lieutenant Paul Mooney, now a physical instructor in the Naval Air Corps.

War Office May Permit Louis Fight With Conn

By JACK MAHON

NEW YORK, June 16—The War department will grant permission for Joe Louis to defend his heavyweight title once more, in September, his opponent will most likely be Pvt. Billy Conn, and it is withholding the official announcement on this only until it is positive Conn's broken left hand is sufficiently healed to permit him to fight.

That is the latest communique whispered by the waves along Jacobs Beach—and is not to be taken too lightly. The waves have whispered much stranger things in the years that have rolled by and could tell some mighty strange stories. It is only natural, therefore, as you walk the strange of all sports shores these summer afternoons to hear the veteran beachcombers "explaining" all the angles in the case of Corporal Joe Louis, the War department, the income tax department and the heavyweight championship of the world.

Surely by now, you are familiar with the drama.

Louis has twice risked his title and taken absolutely nothing in purses. He turned over his purse from a fight with Buddy Baer to the Navy Relief Society and his share from a fight with Abe Simon to the Army Emergency Relief Society.

Must Fight For Self

New he would like permission to fight for himself so he can square a tab of $117,000 in income taxes with his Uncle Samuel. Though public opinion is strongly behind this fine champion and fine American, for some reason the War department has remained silent on whether he will be granted permission for at least one more battle.

Why? What's behind the delay? If there's a reason why doesn't the War department, in fairness to the champion, state it? There are the most common questions debated along the beach and the side street swamis are convinced now that they have the answer. Here's the way they have it doped:

When Conn, who was in line for a return shot at Louis, broke his hand on his father-in-law, Jimmy Smith's skull in the famous "kitchen battle" in Pittsburgh, six weeks ago, Bob Pastor was virtually pushed into the spot.

Promoter Mike Jacobs worked on the Pastor-Louis fight and it was virtually agreed on pending a final decision, due about a month ago. Mr. Pastor then fought Tami Mauriello, was made a 6 to 1 favorite and was held to a draw, a very hard-fought draw, in a ten round bout.

The beachcombers claim this performance, more than anything else, has held up official approval of the Pastor-Louis bout and that the War department, anxious to get all the sugar it can out of what will probably be Corp. Louis' last title defense for the duration, is now determined to wait till the Fall and put Billy the Kid back in there with Joe in their long-awaited return brawl.

GREENBERG IN HOSPITAL

MIAMI, Fla., June 16—Sgt. Hank Greenberg of the Army was hospitalized today at the Miami naval air station for observation on the possibility he was suffering from appendicitis. The former star first baseman and outfielder of the Detroit Tigers was taken to the hospital after he had complained of severe abdominal pains. Medical officers at the station hospital declined to diagnose his case pending further observation, but said no operation was indicated for the present. Greenberg was scheduled to play in a big Army-Navy baseball game in Miami July 5.

PASSEAU SPOILS DODGERS' NEW 'TWIGT' EVENT

Cub Hurler Cuts Brooklyn Lead With Shutout As 15, 159 Watch

NEW YORK, June 16—Claude Passeau has been going up and down the baseball trails for a full decade, sometimes as a winner and other times as a loser, but always trying and seemingly is about to make this one of the best years of his career.

The veteran right-hander who has won 20 games for the Chicago Cubs in 1940 and 14 last season, already has won 10 against only three defeats this year and seems to get better as he goes along. He is that first Major Leagueer to hit 10 victories in this campaign.

The Brooklyn Dodgers' experiment with "twilight" baseball—a combination of night and twilight ball starting at 7 p. m.—was adjudged to be a great new find last evening, except that Passeau spoiled the innovation for 15,159 customers who turned out for the first game ever to be played at that time of the day, or night.

Passeau allowed the league-leaders only five hits and handed them their second shutout of the season, 6 to 0, as Ed Head, Johnny Allen and Larry French all took turns on the mound for the Dodgers. Young Head was blasted off the mound in the third inning and charged with the defeat.

Cubs Move Up

The victory enabled the Cubs to climb up into fifth place in the National League standings and cut a half game off the Dodgers' lead to leave them five games in front of the idle second place St. Louis Cardinals.

The Pirates dropped down into sixth place in the only other game of the day when they lost to the New York Giants, 6 to 2, the Giants moving to within a single percentage point of a third place tie with the Cincinnati Reds.

The Giants victory was accomplished through the seven-hit hurling of Hal Schumacher and the cannonading of Manager Mel Ott and Babe Barna. Ott belted a home run, while Barna was credited with driving in three runs with a homer, a triple and a double.

WEST FAVORED TO TURN BACK BIG TEN STARS

EVANSTON, Ill., June 16—Track and field stars of the Pacific coast and the Western Conference were ready to engage in their sixth meeting at Dyche stadium at twilight today with the athletes from the Far West regarded as heavy favorites again to carry off team honors.

Aside from the usual list of track and field events, which always attract a large crowd, Cornelius Warmerdam, world's record holder of the pole vault, and Dwight Eddleman, of Centralia, Ill. high school, national prep champion will make exhibition appearances. Eddleman has jumped 6 feet, 6 1/2 inches.

Warmerdam will take off on a specially built 150-foot runway in another attempt to vault 16 feet. The Piedmont, Calif., school teacher already has cleared the bar at 15 feet, 7 1/2 inches, but his best performance Sunday at the New York sports show was 14 feet, 8 inches.

The Big Ten athletes never have been able to defeat the Pacific coast in their five previous meets, but on the basis of winning five NCAA titles at Lincoln, Neb., in the national collegiate championships last Saturday, Western Conference stars are believed to be in the best position in several years seriously to challenge the far west's representatives.

MORE FILLIES TO RUN

CHICAGO, June 16—The purse for the Arlington Lassie stakes, to be run July 11 at Arlington park, was increased to $6,000 today by the supplemental nomination of three fillies. The new nominees are Valinda Farm's Valinda Mari, Joseph E. Widener's Fair Weather, and J. D. Weil's Wiseaway.

Two Days To Be Devoted To Registration Of Boys 18 And 19.

DRAFT BOARDS GIVEN NOTICE BY OHIO CHIEF

All Born After January 1, 1922, And Before June 30, 1924, Must Sign Up

REGISTRARS TO HELP

Goble Gives Information Concerning Deferment Of Married Men

Pickaway county draft board received notice Tuesday from state Selective Service headquarters that registration for boys 18 and 19 years of age will be conducted June 27 and 30.

The registration will cover all males born on or after January 1, 1922, and on or before June 30, 1924. Registration hours will be from 12 noon to 6 p. m. on Saturday, June 27, and from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m. on Tuesday, June 30.

State draft officials explained that the registration will be conducted in the manner of the third and fourth registrations by volunteer registrars under the jurisdiction of the chairmen of local draft boards, in general at local board offices.

Under the Selective Service law, 18 and 19-year-old youths will not be subject to compulsory military service until they reach the age of 20 after being required to register. However, they will be required to carry registration certificates with them at all times.

Meanwhile, Col. Chester W. Goble, state Selective Service director, instructed local boards that deferment of men with dependents have not been changed since April 21, despite various interpretations which have been placed on a bill now in the final stages of congressional action.

Deferment Discussed

Goble's statement followed reports that all married men, regardless of dependency status, would be granted a blanket deferment for perhaps as long as six months. These reports apparently originated from the new bill before Congress, which would merely authorize the President to grant deferment.

60,000 JEWS DIE AT VILNA UNDER ORDERS OF NAZIS

LONDON, June 16—The Evening Standard reported today in a dispatch from Stockholm that 60,000 Jews at Vilna had been executed between May 7 and May 20 by German-controlled Lithuanian police.

The report of the executions was brought by an unidentified traveler arriving in Stockholm from Vilna.

He said men, women and children were taken into the suburbs each night during the May 7-20 period and machine-gunned to death.

The informant asserted that Lithuanian police began persecuting Jews immediately after announcement was made at the end of April of the autonomous status of the Baltic states.

ACTUAL WORK STARTS AT LAURELVILLE BRIDGE

Actual work was begun Monday on the construction of a new steel bridge on route 56 over Laurel creek near Laurelville.

Workmen began operations to move the present wooden structure down stream enough to permit building the new bridge and at the same time keep traffic flowing over the old frame.

L. S. METZLER'S FATHER DIES IN OAK HILL HOME

Funeral services for Lewis Metzler, who died Monday at his home in Oak Hill, will be in Oak Hill United Brethren church Wednesday at 2 p. m.

Mr. Metzler was the father of the Rev. L. S. Metzler of Jackson, who resided in Circleville for several years when serving as minister for the U. B. county charge.

REGISTRATION STUDIED

John Martin, Ashland, Ky., was arrested by Circleville police Monday evening and held for investigation. A check on the man's Selective Service registration is being made.

SALES TAX DROPS

Sales tax volume in Pickaway county for the first half of June showed a continued drop with 1942 sales netting $2,960.79 and the same period of 1941 bringing in $3,325.66.

COMBINE INFORMATION SERVICES

Consolidation of government information agencies by President Roosevelt has combined the agencies formerly headed by Archibald MacLeish, Lowell Mellett, William J. Donovan and Robert W. Horton into a single organization, the Office of War Information. Elmer Davis, commentator and author, has been named to head OWI. Donovan's office has been changed to the Office of Strategic Services under the Army and Navy.

Flight From Java Told By Honored Missionary

LOS ANGELES, June 16—The flight of 12 wounded American seamen, who survived the great naval battle off Java last March, through steaming jungles and on a crowded motorship in a harrowing 11-day voyage to Australia was recounted today.

The story came from their leader, a 58-year-old medical missionary who was cited for bravery by President Roosevelt in a nationwide radio address.

The missionary, Lieut. Comm. Corydon M. Wassell, who now wears the Navy Cross, retold the epic flight in Los Angeles shortly after reading for the first time the President's citation in which he was described as "almost like a Christ-like shepherd devoted to his flock" and was credited with keeping his charges alive through sheer skill and courage.

The wounded men were survivors of the U. S. cruiser Houston in the Java sea battle. As the Japanese invaders swarmed over Java, Dr. Wassell improvised stretchers, commandeered a small auto and with enemy almost at his heels moved his band 50 miles to the coast.

"It was hell," Dr. Wassell said. "At times it seemed almost impossible that we all would reach safety. We got all but one of the men to the coast, and he wanted to be left behind. He insisted on going to a hospital for the night had it was a case of waiting for him or bringing the rest out."

Planes In Action

Japanese bombing planes roared ceaselessly over the unnamed Japanese port and there were many casualties in the teeming mass of soldiers, civilians and natives seeking passage on the few vessels preparing to sail for the Australian mainland.

Commander Wassell and his party of wounded boarded the 3000-ton Dutch motorship Janssen, commanded by a Captain Pass. The small vessel was loaded far beyond its normal capacity, but the Dutch skipper, "who always wore a smile and a beret," set sail for Australia.

Three Jap zero fighters attacked the Janssen shortly after it left the Japanese port, Dr. Wassell said. The Japs raked the decks with machine-gun fire, loosed salvo after salvo from their 20-millimeter cannon had dropped incendiary bombs.

"Those small cannon knock a wallowing hole," said Dr. Wassell. "Eight of the civilians aboard were wounded, and the top looked like a collander when the Japs left."

Captain Pass put in at a sheltered bay and called Dr. Wassell to one side.

"We are going to try to make it to Australia," he told Commander Wassell. "Those that want to can go to shore as soon as we've plugged up the holes in the lifeboats. There'll be no charge for the Australia trip—but everyone will have to work."

All of Dr. Wassell's charges remained with the trip and the 11-day voyage to Australia began.

Made Good Target

"We were duck soup as a target," the Navy doctor said. "The sky was perfectly clear."

"We actually prayed for a storm to fill that entirely too clear sky and shield us! There was even a full moon at night! The voyage was a triumph of Dutch ingenuity in navigation."

Commander Wassell returned to the United States to serve as a technical adviser on a forthcoming motion picture dealing with his exploits.

TWO CARRIERS RECEIVE GIFTS FOR BOND SALES

Jimmy Hill and Jimmy Lytle, two Daily Herald carrier boys, were honored Monday evening at the Kiwanis club meeting when they were presented gifts for outstanding other carriers in an intensive War Bond and Stamp sale.

Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hill, was given a handsome watch by the Kiwanis club, and Lytle, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Lytle, was presented a cash award by The Daily Herald.

The youths sold almost $8,500 in bonds and stamps between them.

The club enjoyed an interesting address on Kiwanis Education presented by Luther Bower, a member of the club. The subject was appropriate since this is all-Kiwanis week with the international convention being conducted in Cleveland. Several delegates from the local club are attending the meeting.

Next Monday will be ladies' night at Hanley's tearoom with Dr. Harrison Evans, Columbus psychiatrist, speaking.

yelled, "Give our greetings to Hess."

A Gestapo agent present immediately ordered the lights turned on and an effort was made to discover the offender. It was unsuccessful. The Gestapo then announced that the performance was cancelled and that the audience could get back part of its money, with the rest to go to the Nazi relief fund.

Whereupon another voice shouted: "We don't want any of the money. We all had a grand time."

LT. COL. JUSTICE MURPHY

Only insiders at the War department know it, but Justice Frank Murphy offered to resign from the Supreme Court altogether if the Army would definitely give him combat service abroad.

However, word came back, first, that the Army could make no promise as to where any officer would serve; second that he was too valuable on the Supreme Court.

So Murphy will go back to the bench when the Summer recess is over. Most Supreme Court justices spend this four months on Cape Cod or in the mountains, but Murphy has chafed at these idle Summer months.

The Army, which has handed out a lot of lush commissions to Hollywood moguls, offered him a higher rank than lieutenant colonel, but he chose to be only one rank higher than when he left the last war as a major. As a result Murphy will be saluting men who were on his staff as governor of Michigan.

U. S. SPECIALIST CORPS

The Army Specialist Corps got off to a bad start with no money, no equipment and no clear-cut idea of what it was expected to do, but under the smooth direction of Dwight F. Davis the Corps now is ready to start going places. A few days ago Roosevelt formally sent Davis's name to the Senate for confirmation as director-general.

The Corps is recruiting thousands of "specialists," that is, technicians, scientists, professional men and administrators—men too old to fight or with physical defects that disqualify them for Army service, but who are able to fill the shoes of younger men needed on the firing lines.

Davis says the response of America's older citizens has been "magnificent." He estimates that 125,000 men have offered to serve in any capacity the Army can use them. Already the Corps has more than 10,000 jobs awaiting specialists—jobs now filled by young officers or enlisted men. That means, Davis pointed out, 10,000 more men to carry the fight to Hitler and the Japs.

Since it was something new in America's military organization, the Specialist Corps at first encountered resistance from a few hide-bound Army outfits. Several of the regular service branches refused to designate what jobs the older men might fill and one, Finance, is still holding out.

But this opposition is disappearing as the Corps proves it can deliver. Job openings now are coming in at the rate of several hundred a week.

The specialists wear khaki, and are subject to modified Army discipline. They do not salute, but officers and men have the same rank and pay scales as the Army.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Only time the Chief of Staff of the U. S. Army ever listened to a private for two hours without answering back was when Gen. Marshall attended Shaw's "Candida" starring Private Burgess Meredith. Meredith was given leave from the army because proceeds from the play go to Army relief. . . . Others who listened to Private Meredith were Harry Hopkins, accompanied by Charlie Chaplin's newly divorced wife, Paulette Goddard; and Mrs. Roosevelt accompanied by Melvin Douglas. . . . The son of a J. P.

Asks Governorship

FIRST woman in Wisconsin's history to run for governor, Mrs. Georgia Cozzini, 27-year-old blonde, has been nominated by the Socialist Labor party as its candidate for governor of state.

Morgan partner approached the son of another J. P. Morgan partner the other day on behalf of the "Kommies." The emissary was Corliss Lamont, son of Thomas W. Lamont, who asked Jimmy Cromwell, step-son of Edward T. Stotesbury, to drop his libel suit against the New Masses. The left wing rag had called Cromwell an appeaser, though it once reprimanded him, when he was Minister to Canada, for demanding that the U.S.A. join up with England.

WITH LOCAL BOYS UNDER THE FLAG

John Griffith Moves To Rank Of Sergeant At Claibourne

Word was received Tuesday that John Griffith, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Griffith, Corwin street, who is stationed with the Army at Camp Claibourne, Louisiana, has been promoted to the rank of sergeant. Young Griffith has also received honor from the members in his company, having been selected as their representative to attend camouflage school.

J. Robert Rooney of Xenia has entered Army service at Fort Hayes, Columbus, volunteering for immediate service in advance of his induction date of July 1. Private Rooney, who has been a member of the teaching staff of the O. S. S. O. Home for the last few years, is a son of Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Rooney, East Union street.

Dr. and Mrs. Rooney's daughter, Mrs. Edwin C. Tingley and son, Edwin R., of Westerville, have gone to Governor's Island, New York, to join her husband, Captain Tingley, who is in the judge advocate's office at the island. Mrs. Tingley is the former Nelle Rooney.

Corporal Jacob B. Davis has returned to Pine Camp, New York, after a three day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde F. Davis, Circleville route 1.

Glenn E. Cardiff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Cardiff of Fayette county, former Pickaway county residents, has been accepted for U. S. Marine Corps training. He enrolled in Cincinnati.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Wright of Harrison township have returned home after a visit with their son, Willard, who is in the U. S. Navy. He has been stationed temporarily at Reading, Pa., but expected to leave Monday for Norfolk, Va., for additional training.

Dean Bushee, who is in Air Corps training at Hunter field, Savannah, Ga., arrived home Monday for a 10-day furlough. The visit is his first in Circleville in nine months.

Staff Sergeant Ralph Wellington of the 117th Signal Radio company, is stationed at Camp Sam Houston, Texas. He was recently transferred from Camp Shelby, Miss.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Plum have left for Fort Monmouth, N. J., where Mr. Plum will start officers' training. He has been stationed in the West but will be at Fort Monmouth for three months. They spent several days here last week with Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Plum.
